RHEUMATISM

AND PILES CURED BY

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA.

Mr. W. JENKINS, Adelaide, S. A., formerly of Hawthorn, near Melbourne, Vic. writes:

"For the past three or four years, I have been a great sufferer from rheumatism and piles."

"I tried all sorts of medicines, but derived no good from them. I changed to Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and after taking one bottle, I felt better, and after taking two bottles, I was a new man. I was sorry I never took it before, for it would have saved me very much pain."

THE WILES OF INFORMERS.

HOW THEY WORK TO PROCURE TESTIMONY IN WHISKY CASES.

A Specimen of the Manner in Which Specials in the Employ of the Marshal Make Wages.

Visitors to the court over which Judge Perry presides would have heard some interesting testimony yesterday, at both morning and afternoon sessions, besides gaining considerable insight into the way special officers in the pay of the police department and their informers work up cases against those whom they suspect of selling liquors without a license or of committing other crimes punishable by fines, part of which go to the informers. Specials Cordes, Xavier, Ott and others make a specialty of this business and have been successful in securing quite a number of convictions by means which are somewhat peculiar to say the least. But of late they have not had such an easy time of it, and in the case of Makaima and two or three others of a similar nature the defendants' attorneys have pushed the cross-examination of the officers and their informers to such an extent as to lead to the conclusion that they were laying the foundation of a conspiracy against those who put up the several jobs which lead to the arrests. Whether the kind of detective work that Cordes and his partners are doing meets with the approval of their superior officers can only be surmised, but it is presumed that it does.

Makaima's case was taken up yesterday morning after the routine business of the daily calling of the calendar was over. The testimony of the informer Julius Lundenberg was detailed in Wednesday's issue, and it was yesterday corroborated by Charles Ott, who testified that he was a special police officer and that he was with Lundenberg when the latter purchased a bottle of gin and a bottle of wine from the defendant at his house near the Insane Asylum, paying therefor the sum of $1.75, of which two marked half dollars were a portion. Ott swears that the defendant took the money but that he did not see him put it in his pocket. Lundenberg took the bottle of gin and put it in his pocket, while Ott did the same with the wine. They had several drinks before the signal was given to Cordes to come in, besides tasting the liquor they claimed to have purchased. Ott also testified that afterwards they called for three more glasses of gin and tendered 50 cents more in payment thereof, but that the defendant said it was not enough and then Xavier and Lundenberg dug up ten cents each in addition. About this time Cordes made his appearance on the scene and immediately asked if they had procured the liquor. Upon receiving an affirmative reply Cordes took a nip out of each bottle so that he would offer expert testimony as to the alcoholic character of the liquors in court. But while Cordes was doing the testing and marking of the bottles for identification the defendant had not been idle, for according to Ott he had put his hand out of the window. Cordes observing this asked the defendant what he had done with the money but the defendant said he had none. Cordes then ordered Ott to guard the prisoner while he searched outside for it, but his search was unavailing and the money has not yet been found and it was not on the defendant's person when he was thoroughly searched at the police station. Cordes then returned to the room and tried to coax the defendant to tell him where the money was and promised him that if he told the truth he would be his friend. He did

JUDICIARY JOTTINGS.

NEW TRIAL REFUSED IN AN EJECTMENT CASE—OTHER MATTERS.

S. K. Kane Writes the Opinion of the Court.—The Case of Harvey vs. Campbell Decided.

An opinion of the Supreme Court has been filed in the case of Maria Kaanana vs. Keahi, F. W. Wundenberg, administrator of the will of Mahoe, and C. P. Kanakani. It is by S. K. Kane, barrister, who sat with Chief Justice Judd and Justice Frear in place of Justice Bickerton, absent from illness. The case is one of ejectment, and the appeal was from Judge Whiting's refusal to grant a motion for a new trial made on the ground that the verdict was contrary to the law and the evidence. The Supreme Court overrules the exceptions, saying, "There being sufficient evidence to sustain the verdict, a new trial is refused." Kahookano for plaintiff; Magoon and Kinney for defendants. The case now settled was in the courts two and a half years, and has been before two juries. On the first trial the verdict was for the plaintiff, and on the second for the defendants.

Judge Cooper has granted a motion to reduce defendant's bond on motion for new trial, in Aswan vs. Pang Lam and Pang Yok, from $2,300 to $500, and approved Paul Neumann as surety. Magoon for plaintiff; Neumann and Thurston for defendant.

In the ejectment case of J. Harvey vs. James Campbell, Judge Whiting yesterday gave judgment for the plaintiff for one-half of the properties named in articles 1 and 2 of the complaint, with costs of Court. Magoon and Humphreys for plaintiff; C. Brown for defendant. The first lot is land on King street, Honolulu, containing one and one third acre, and the second lot at Lahaina containing one-half acre.

K. Podyen, guardian of his three minor children by his first marriage, has petitioned for leave to sell real estate, being the land on which his house was burned last July.

Henry Smith, as commissioner of the Supreme Court of British Columbia, will not open his court for taking depositions in Cranston and Muller's case until next Thursday.

Judge Whiting has refused the motion of the Portuguese Benefit Society for a new trial of Ignacio de Fraga's suit for about $400 death benefit.

EDITOR BULLETIN.

The lumber ex E. F. Jewett mentioned in your last issue by Messrs. Denison and Bergstrom was not the material used to build Smith's fence.

The material used was taken from the dredger, ripped at Lucas' Mill, then returned to the dredger and those pointed by the carpenter, and a bundle at a time was packed ashore generally in the evening. I and Oberg worked three days at Smith's house erecting said fence, he certainly did not pay us. Who did? The answer is obvious.

How the present employees came to sign a vindication for Capt. Smith is no mystery, but only Oberg, Adler and myself were working on the dredger at the time when the fence was erected.

(Signed) W. STOKES.

We the undersigned saw the pickets brought ashore by Stokes, who told us he was taking them to Smith's house.

AN OPIUM SEIZURE.

Wallie Davis Under Arrest for Opium in Possession.

Shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon as Wallie Davis and five boat boys were returning in his bumboat from the cruiser Olympia, where he had been to deliver the noonday supplies, and when about opposite the Lighthouse, his boat was boarded and searched by the Board of Health officer stationed at that point. Twenty-eight tins of opium were found and confiscated and with Davis taken to the Station House, where a charge of having opium in possession was placed against him. The opium was in good condition.

Central Union Social.

The lecture room of the Central Union Church was well filled last night, the occasion being the first social since the epidemic. During the evening, which was mostly spent in conversation, H. F. Wichman sang a baritone solo, Miss Carrie Castle contributed a piano solo and Mrs. W. W. Hall gave a reading. About two hundred people were present.

Monarchs and Tribunes.

The Hawaiian Hardware Company again calls attention to the merits of the Monarch and Tribune wheels. This firm is glad to have a little competition in the bicycle business, as it claims the greater competition is the greater its sales are. The Hawaiian Hardware Company claims the Monarch and Tribune wheels will stand any amount of competition.

The Cranston Case.

The morning organ is informed that the taking of the testimony in the Cranston and Muller cases will not be done by the Marshal but by Henry Smith, the commissioner especially appointed by the Vancouver Court for the purpose. Ex-Marshal Hitchcock will be the most important witness examined, as he will probably be made to divulge all the evidence in his possession which led to the arrests. W. A. Kinney will watch the case for the Hawaiian Government, and Minister Hatch may also lend his assistance.

TRouble ON THE OLYMPIA

HARD WORK AND NO FRESH BREAD MAKES JACK KICK.

The Matter Amicably Arranged—Work Going On as Usual—The Men Gained Their Point.

There is a rumor of considerable trouble on board the U. S. S. Olympia yesterday, arising out of the refusal of the Captain to allow fresh food to the forward messes the same as to the officers.

When ordered into the lighter to pass coal there was a big kick among the men and they are said to have sullenly refused work.

Later on the matter was arranged amicably and the men allowed to purchase potatoes, soft bread and other provisions. It is said that the reason for the Olympia's not coming into the harbor is the fear on the part of the Captain of a wholesale desertion of the crew.

The trouble is said to have originated in a misunderstanding between the captain and ship's doctor as to allowing fresh food to be taken on board. As the officers were allowed to purchase all the fresh meat and vegetables they wanted, the forward messes stuck up for the same privileges and finally obtained them.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

Resolves to Continue Tuition Fees at High School—Changes of Teachers.

At its sessions of the past two days the Board of Education considered several questions. It was resolved to continue the High School as a pay one until the Legislature decides otherwise.

Teachers were detailed as follows: Miss Sarah Ostrom to be assistant at Kohala school, Hawaii, vice Mrs. Bell, resigned. N. B. Brackenridge to be assistant at Hauula, vice D. A. Buck, resigned; Robert Meheula to be temporary assistant at Ulupala-kua, Maui; Mrs. Maria Bush to be second assistant at Kilauea, Kauai; Horace Tregloan to be principal at Mahukona, Hawaii, and Miss Nora Richard to be assistant at Honokaa, Hawaii.

The primary department of Fort Street school is to be moved into the stone building on the premises, Miss Cousen continuing as principal. The old wooden buildings will be used for other schools. An additional teacher may soon be appointed to Fort Street.
